

Accessibility

Published: 28.01.2022.

The website is designed according to international norms and standards to ensure accessibility for everyone interested in the content. The principles of accessibility provide diversity and meaningfulness of functionality. Please contact us if you encounter any errors or inconveniences while using the website - your opinion will make the website even more convenient.

Characteristics of capabilities

Options for adapting the website to everyone's needs in the digital environment.

View more

Accessibility Statement

An assessment of the website gives an idea of the convenience of its use to people with different needs. The statement contains information on communication in case of website failures or other issues.

View more

<https://www.csp.gov.lv/en/accessibility>